Personal Statement

My aim is to create clean, clear designs which are accessible to the largest possible audience. My passion for precision, dedication to detail and creative flair are waiting to be unleashed.

Simplicity and intelligent design are the future.

Lets get there together.

Career History

Freelance Illustrator

Since October 2006, I have worked as an illustrator and created a large portfolio of vector illustrations and fractal backgrounds. My portfolio can be seen at the link below:

Web Designer

I first learned how to create websites back in 1997. Some of sites that I have created can be seen at the link below. These sites have been hand coded using Crimson Editor (a text editor). The graphics were produced using Paintshop Pro and Illustrator CS3.

The interactive components were produced using Flash.
